

Hi everyone,

Here's the link to the latest study, on Prophecy, part 15:

I had to interrupt the "Temple" series due to the recent activity in the economy and for reasons you will see when you watch the study. I will pick back up with the Temple during the Unleavened Bread period. This year, we here will be keeping the ENTIRE feast, as opposed to what we did in those other groups. This festival is a "pilgrimage" feast just like Tabernacles, and it was kept that way in the time of Christ's life. I will be trying to use each of those days for a study on the Temple if possible.

Also, we do have some new members here on our little email list who may be unfamiliar with our procedures for the Passover. We are anxiously awaiting the sighting of the next observable new moon crescent from Israel, which should happen in a few days. Also, we are waiting on word from the Karaite observers in the land of Israel for the discovery of the barley, which is a requirement to begin the biblical new year. This barley search helps keep the biblical calendar in line with the seasons. I am fairly sure the barley will be found soon.

I am working on a major Passover essay, and it will be done soon.

All for now,

Todd
